Ambassador Asks Countrymen to Put Aside Differences.

MAY ARRANGE PEACE PACT

Conferences Held in New York Are Regarded as of Importance to the Situation.

NEW YORK, March 15 .- Before Senor le la Barra left for Washington last evening he gave out here the proofs of an article which appears today in the Independent on "The Situation in Mexco," urging all his countrymen, regardless of "all divisions of party, all differences between men," to recall the 'sacred interests of our country," and to work together for the progress of true democracy and of the best develop-

The ambassador penned this appeal only Monday night, after his conference with Senor Limantour, the Mexican minister of finance, and he considered it so important that at the very last moment he had it crowded into the locked forms. Insurrecto leaders to whom the proofs were shown said they considered it an invitation to come into camp, and its issuance makes more noticeable a trend of events that has been discoverable for the past three days.

Mexicans Getting Together.

After the first shock of surprise in the United States and of alarm and distrust in Mexico caused by the dispatch of 20,000 American troops to the frontier, there began on the one side a series of formal diplomatic exchanges between the carefully weighed interviews and authorized publications in the daily press. Underneath this current ran a deeper tide of sympathy between countrymen who might be at odds, but were still country-

Vasquez Gomez, the insurrecto agent at Washington, who has een here for the last three days, "the moment there is intervention there will cease to be an insurrection. Both sides will make common cause against a com-

Flowing to a Junction.

In short, it became plain that two streams of tendency were flowing to a junction. On the one hand there was a disposition on the part of the insurrectos to open negotiations with the representatives of the Mexican administration here; on the other there was growing under-Men's Scotch Flannel Dressing Gowns; standing between the Mexican government and the United States. Virtually self and colored stripes. Made with roll collar and finished with pearl buttons and take care of smuggling his government will take care of the insurrection.

In most of his statements he has been careful to dwell on both these points. He holds out the latchstring to the insurrectos with a promise of reforms, and calls Washington to account with complaints of the share Americans are taking in financing and leading the revolu-tion. Therefore, with Senor Limantour and Secretary Dickinson of the War De-partment in town the Maderos and Ampassador de la Barra in the same hotel. the conviction grew that an understand-ing between them would be reached.

Junta Issues Warning.

This conviction was strengthened by the warning issued by the junta here last Sunday to "look for something Tuesday," and the sudden secrecy and activity with which their councils, heretofore so open to the press, became suddenly cloaked. Gabriel Madero, a brother of Gustavo, chief of the junta here, let fall that his father had recently paid a call on Senor Limantour. One of his friends said that Gustavo had spent part of the morning with Secretary Dickinson, but the Secretary himself dashed all these inimations with cold water.

"I have not been in communication with the Maderos, either directly or indirect-ly," he said. "I have never met any of them, and I have had no word from any of them. I carry no message from them to Senor Limantour. My presence here has nothing to do with the Mexican sit-
